INTERMEDIATE MID PROFICIENCY

Speakers at the Intermediate Mid sublevel are able to handle successfully a variety of uncomplicated communication tasks in straightforward social and transactional situations. They can engage effectively in predictable and concrete exchanges that involve personal information related to self, family, home, daily activities, interests, and personal preferences, as well as physical and social needs, such as food, shopping, travel, and lodging. They are capable of asking a variety of questions to obtain information to meet basic needs, such as instructions, prices, and services.

At the Intermediate Mid sublevel, speakers are able to express personal meaning by creating with the language, in part by combining and recombining known elements and conversational input. Their speech largely consists of strings of sentences; it may contain pauses, reformulations, and self-corrections as they search for adequate vocabulary and appropriate language forms to express themselves, and their pronunciation, vocabulary, and syntax may reflect some influence from the other languages that they know. However, they are generally able to be understood and can sometimes recognize and correct miscommunication when it occurs.
